Consumer Credit Advocates

You can live your life debt free. We can show you the way.

Getting out of debt begins with a plan - and a strong advocate for your interests. The American Fair Credit Council is here to help. There are two things that you need to know right now:

It seems like you're hopelessly in debt. You are not.
You feel like your debt is entirely your fault. It is not.

The credit game in America is not played on a level playing field. AFCC-certified Consumer Credit Advocates stand up for your rights, and give you the fair shot you deserve at resolving your debts.

Even though they may deny it, your credit card companies will accept less than you owe. In the hands of a skilled debt negotiator, they will yield. Our AFCC-certified Consumer Credit Advocates are committed to helping you resolve your financial challenges. In fact, they do not accept any fees until your problems are resolved - meaning they only succeed when you succeed. There are no monthly or advance fees of any kind. By partnering with one of our Advocates, you can resolve your debts and find an alternative to bankruptcy. Begin your journey to financial independence and contact us today. We'll connect you to a credible and trusted Advocate and give you resources to help you in your fight for fair financial treatment.
