About

The team that founded Curadebt was formed in 2000, providing financial crisis assistance to individuals and small businesses. This means that they are one of the oldest and most experienced teams in the industry.

Over the years the company has grown, while keeping to the founding mission of helping individuals and small businesses with solutions that help put them in a better place.

The counseling process is free and CuraDebt never charges callers anything. The goal of the process is to first understand your short & long term goals, what lead to the current situation and get relevant details concerning your finances, and then to see what the best solution is to help you get out of the situation you are in.

The call is confidential and this information is used to give free recommendations. We will help you or refer you to a solutions provider that has been identified as one of the best in the industry.
