AFSLR CODE OF ETHICS

Our ethical principles are the values that govern all that we do as Members of The Association for Student Loan Relief. As we seek to achieve responsible commercial success, we will be challenged to balance these principles against each other, always mindful of our promises and service to our consumers.

HONESTY: We will not say things that are false or misleading to our consumers. We will always maintain open lines of communication. All of our agreements and contracts will be conducted in good faith.

FAIRNESS: We will treat all consumers fairly and equally, and follow a process that achieves the best possible outcome for each consumer. All of our fees charged for services shall be reasonable and fair.

PROMISE-KEEPING: We will go to great lengths to keep our commitments. We will not make promises that can't be kept and we will not make promises unless we have the authority to do so. We shall also protect the personal and private information of all of our consumers.

RESPECT FOR OTHERS: We will be open and direct in our communication, and receptive to influence. We will honor and value the abilities and contributions of others, embracing the responsibility and accountability for our actions in this regard.

COMPASSION: We will maintain an awareness of the needs of others and act to meet those needs whenever possible. We will also minimize harm whenever possible. We will act in ways that are consistent with our commitment to social responsibility.

INTEGRITY: We will live up to these ethical principles, even when confronted by professional risks and economic pressures.
