Filed under: Vito Torchia, Jr

United Law Group, the leading litigator of cases concerning abusive banking practices, breaches of contract and violations of state and federal laws of real estate litigation services, welcomed veteran attorneys Vito Torchia, Jr. and Jerold Gardner to the firm. These dynamic attorneys will support the firm's aggressive litigation efforts.

United Law Group takes a strong position against predatory lending and banking practices. Their proactive team of attorneys and paralegals work aggressively to compel banks to change the way they deal with homeowners by litigating cases involving clear violations of state and federal laws.

"Torchia and Gardner bring experience and knowledge in the practice and application of real estate law and general civil and Chapters 7 and 13 bankruptcy litigation matters," said Ruel Caneda, attorney for United Law Group. "Their strengths complement the core competencies of our team and will empower us to continue to help the large number of Americans who are in need of legal representation at this challenging time."

Torchia graduated from the Southwestern University School of Law in Los Angeles, California. He is admitted to practice law in California, New York, Florida and United States District Court, Central District of California. He also holds a degree in Business Administration from the University of Miami, Florida. Over the years he has handled law and motion practices including drafting memorandums of points and authorities, mediation briefs, ex-parte applications, complaints, answers and memorandums in opposition in real estate, general civil and Chapters 7 and 13 bankruptcy litigation matters.

In addition to his professional experience as an attorney, he has also co-authored and edited several legal publications regarding the entertainment industry.

"Vito Torchia, Jr. has a extensive experience as a litigator, having appeared on behalf of clients in superior and district court for motion hearings and case management conferences in real estate, landlord/tenant, general civil and Chapters 7 and 13 bankruptcy litigation matters.," said Caneda. "His keen insight and understanding of real application of the laws makes him an asset during a court trial."

Gardner is a member of the Texas, Georgia, Colorado, and Washington State Bars and has been practicing law since 1985. His practice focuses on advising businesses on the successful mitigation of risk and the transactional, litigation and contractual issues for a diverse set of business issues. He has civil litigation and dispute resolution experience in State and Federal Courts, representing plaintiffs and defendants in jury and non-jury hearings and trials.

"Jerold Gardner's expertise supports our focus on litigating, not negotiating with unreasonable lenders," said Rutledge. "His experience will prove invaluable in assisting our clients."
