

Mutual Non-Disclosure Agreement

THIS NONDISCLOSURE AGREEMENT is made and entered into as of ____ of _____ 2010, by and between _____, ("Company"), a _____ corporation, with its principal offices at _____ and World Law Processing, LLC ("WLP"), located at 2201 Donley Dr., Suite 250, Austin, TX 78758.

WHEREAS, "COMPANY" and WLP wish to enter into a relationship, which will entail both party's disclosure, either verbally, in written or other tangible form, to the other party certain proprietary information the disclosing party maintains as "trade secrets" and/or "confidential information", as a condition to such disclosure, the party's require each to sign and deliver this Agreement to establish certain restrictions to protect the information against the risk of unauthorized use or disclosure.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual promises and covenants contained herein, "COMPANY" and WLP, intending to be legally bound, agree as follows:

1. This Agreement shall apply to all "trade secrets" and "confidential information" disclosed by the disclosing party to the recipient party and its personnel. For purposes of this Agreement, "trade secrets" entails information of the disclosing party, including but not limited to, technical and non-technical data, formulae, patterns, compilations, programs, devices, methods, techniques, drawings, processors, financial data, financial plans, product plans and lists of potential customers, that is not generally known to, and is not readily ascertainable by proper means by others who could obtain economic value from its disclosure or use, and is subject to efforts by the disclosing party to maintain its secrecy. For software, "trade secrets" includes, but is not limited to, source code and software system design. "Confidential information" entails any data or information, other than trade secrets, that is competitively sensitive material, and not generally known by the public, such as product planning information, marketing strategies, pricing, and internal performance results. For software, "confidential information" includes, but is not limited to, system administration scripts, report and notice design, screen description language, data base record descriptions and system configuration and policy setting.
2. The recipient party shall not use, disclose or permit any unauthorized person to obtain any trade secrets of the disclosing party for as long as the pertinent information or data remain trade secrets (whether or not the trade secrets are verbal or in written or tangible form), without the prior written consent of the disclosing party. The recipient party shall not use, disclose, or permit any unauthorized person to obtain any confidential information of the disclosing party for as long as the pertinent information or data remain confidential information, but in no event for longer than five (5) years after the first instance of disclosure to the recipient party (whether or not the confidential information is verbal or in written or tangible form), without the prior written consent of the disclosing party. For purposes of this Agreement, the recipient party is authorized to disclose the trade secrets and confidential information of the disclosing party only to responsible personnel employed by the recipient party who must obtain the trade secrets or confidential information in order to carry out the purposes for which the trade secrets and confidential information have been disclosed to the recipient party and who have first signed and delivered to the disclosing party a nondisclosure agreement with respect to trade secrets and confidential information acceptable to the disclosing party.
3. For purposes of this Agreement, trade secrets and confidential information shall not include any information:
 - (i) that is publicly available at the time of disclosure;
 - (ii) that is or becomes generally known to the public through no fault of the recipient;
 - (iii) that is obtained without restriction from an independent source having a bona fide right to use and disclose such information, without restriction as to further use or disclosure;
 - (iv) that the disclosing party approves for unrestricted release by written authorization; or
 - (v) that is required to be disclosed by law, except to the extent eligible for special treatment under an appropriate protective order.

4. To protect the trade secrets and confidential information of the disclosing party, the recipient party shall adopt basic security measures of the kind commonly observed in industries that rely extensively on proprietary information. These security measures should include physical security measures, restrictions on access by unauthorized personnel, use of confidential agreements with personnel, and selective retention or destruction of sensitive materials, as appropriate.
5. Upon the written request of the disclosing party, the recipient party shall return or destroy all materials in its possession or within its control that contain or reflect the trade secrets or confidential information of the disclosing party.
6. The nondisclosure provisions of this Agreement shall survive the termination of this Agreement and Receiving Party's duty to hold Confidential Information in confidence shall remain in effect until the Confidential Information no longer qualifies as a trade secret or until Disclosing Party sends Receiving Party written notice releasing Receiving Party from this Agreement, whichever occurs first.
7. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to constitute either party a partner, joint venture or employee of the other party for any purpose.
8. The unauthorized disclosure or use of any trade secrets or confidential information of the disclosing party could cause irreparable harm and significant injury to the disclosing party, which may be difficult to measure with certainty or compensate through damages. Accordingly, the disclosing party shall have the right to seek and obtain an immediate injunction enjoining any breach by the recipient party of this Agreement upon application to a court of competent jurisdiction.
9. This Agreement and all acts and transactions pursuant hereto and the rights and obligations of the parties hereto shall be governed, construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas, without giving effect to principles of conflicts of law. Each of the parties to this Agreement consents to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the state and federal courts of Travis County, Texas.
10. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon WLP and "COMPANY" and their respective successors and assigns.
11. If a court finds any provision of this Agreement invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Agreement shall be interpreted so as best to effect the intent of the parties.
12. This Agreement expresses the complete understanding of the parties with respect to the subject matter and supersedes all prior proposals, agreements, representations and understandings. This Agreement may not be amended except in a writing signed by both parties.
13. The failure to exercise any right provided in this Agreement shall not be a waiver of prior or subsequent rights.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed as of the date written above.
