Capital Debt Settlement and Legal Helpers Form Consumer Advocacy Partnership

The Debt Settlement Firm Is Teaming With the Nation's Largest Fair Debt Collection Practices Act Enforcement Law Firm to Provide an Important Service to Clients

FRESNO, CA--(Marketwire - August 3, 2009) - Capital Debt Settlement (CDS) and Legal Helpers, the largest Fair Debt Collection Practices Act enforcement law firm in the country, have recently formed an exclusive partnership in order to protect CDS clients from being harassed by Collection Agencies.

In 2008 alone, the nationwide network of Legal Helper attorneys filed more than 40,000 cases against collection agencies they believe violated the law and achieved millions of dollars in settlements and litigation awards.

"This partnership is of tremendous value in that it will add some real 'teeth' to our settlement and customer service efforts," said David Henson, President of CDS. "No one should be subject to abusive or deceptive collection practices. This service will give a whole new layer of protection to our clients and may even be a source of revenue for some."

Capital Debt Settlement clients will have automatic access to the Legal Helpers attorney team. Fees earned by the Legal Helpers attorney network come exclusively out of awards and settlements achieved. There will be no out of pocket expense for Capital Debt Settlement clients.
